GGD PLENARY LECTURES, 2019-2020

Convenor: John Gledhill

The GGD Plenary Lectures present issues of general concern to students of the MSc in Global Governance and Diplomacy, including but not limited to “big issues” about world politics and/or research-led presentations. Although the exact format is at the discretion of the lecturer, the typical arrangement is a one-hour lecture by a GGD faculty member (or guest) followed by half hour or so of debate. While attendance is voluntary, the Plenary Lectures are important events for the GGD student community. Accordingly, there is an expectation that everyone will attend lectures whenever possible.
